New Emergency Phone Number

Can all employees please note that effective immediately the new emergency phone number is now 13 44 66.

This new single phone number will replace the previous emergency numbers that were different for each department.

The aim of this new single phone number is to ensure there is no confusion as to who to phone when there is an emergency situation at any on site location.

Keep your workforce informed of any new information with Notices.

Presented to both PC and kiosk users in large, easy-to-read text, you can't miss the message.

Give your users a clear overview of issues that affect them, from safety alerts and change notifications to the current date for the next company barbecue.

Notices have a custom title, message and colour and can be applied to just one site or across all your sites (so you're not maintaining the same information in multiple places).

And if a notice requires a response, Feedback is only a single touch away. Say goodbye to your old corkboard and hello to Notices.

YOUR SYSTEMS, SIMPLIFIED

Thumbtacks were always an OH&S hazard anyway.

With Notices, you can maintain your important notifications in one place.

Keeping the workforce informed is integral to safety in the workplace. Whether you're currently using a physical noticeboard or sending around emails, IQ LINK can alleviate the pain of manually maintaining updates and notifications.

With Notices, your changes are immediately visible to the workforce when they choose to check them out.

But the best part is, your notices are shown whenever the IQ LINK kiosk goes into screensaver mode, so your users don't have to actively search out notices to stay informed.

Of course, as with all IQ LINK modules, Notices can be accessed by both PC and kiosk users in specially-designed interfaces.

KEY FEATURES

- Colour-coded notices means you can bring attention to certain notices easily.
- Access notices one-at-a-time or show a complete list of all notices at once.
- Add notices that apply to all sites on your server to easily disseminate information company-wide.
- Your saved notices are used as a screensaver for idle IQ LINK kiosks.
